Easy to Use Administrative Tools

If your website has recurring or time-sensitive maintenance needs, it is more cost-efficient to have trained content managers within your organization to make updates. SPI designs and integrates easy-to-use administrative tools that allow users to add, edit and delete information from your site using simple forms, eliminating the requirement of programming skills.

Comprehensive Redundant Hosting Services

For companies selling online or offering customer/ technical support services, it is essential to maintain business continuity. SPI provides several hosting options that provide redundant servers including offshore, that will ensure your website is available 24/7.
